DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 7- are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peel or Ziegert.

Regarding claim 7, Peel discloses a support hosiery testing apparatus and method with features of the claimed invention including a test article with a two-dimensional article formed by individual elements or sections which are connected to one another . it is submitted that generally all textile fabric come loose when acted by mechanical load as a result of drying due to the heat .

Also, Ziegert discloses a garment pattern adaptation system including a two - or three dimension article formed of section connected to each other which they come loose if they are acted upon load resulting from drying heat..

Regarding claim 8 almost all fabrics formed with interconnected threads.

Regarding claims 9-10, the boundary of the Ziegert's garments has boundary and additional threads which are remarkable by at least a color of the sewing or stitching threads (see, for example, figure 3).

4. Claim 11 is allowed over the prior art of the record mainly due to the counting sections or elements which have come loose from the test article.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
